WHO IS B MOR?

B Mor is an actress, producer, writer and director hailing from the Windy City. She has a foundation in theatre that lives for the core of storytelling and probing the discoveries of life. She is an alumna of the Mecca, Howard University. Her creative curiosity has taken her to the South of France, Italy, Jamaica and several cities across the United States. She has performed at the infamous Regal Theatre and the Chicago Theatre. To date, she has produced and starred in three films: Over the Edge, TEMP and GENIUS, which she also wrote. Her film credits include: FETCH, My Attitude, The Resistance. Her directing credits include: Green Grass and Attention AmeriCa: We Beg Your Pardon. Her producer credits include: Girls? Girls! Girls. "Earn your sleep" is her motto and this is what drives her everyday.

My goal is simple – to have fun doing what I love. Got something that needs the B MOR touch? LET'S WORK if you want your youth to grow in the arts and take the stage to the next level of their creativity, life and beyond!

PARTNERSHIPS

Some of my most successful partnerships include Charles Health Presents, Metcalfe Community Academy, Arts4Students, One Hope United and Divine Purpose Revealed. What made these partnerships so successful were the clear expectations, navigations of communication, support, engagement, follow up, access, resources and mutual respect. Improvements for less successful programs include a protocol for exchanging information, clarity in duties and expectations, as well as multiple check-in dates throughout the duration of the program.
